

ENGLISH GRAMMAR PRACTICE

Topic: Present Perfect with just, already, and yet

16.1 Write a sentence with just for each description.

Look at the situations and write what has just happened.

1. They arrived a minute ago.
They've just arrived.
2. He finished his lunch now.
He
3. They parked their new car.
They
4. The runners started the race.
The race

16.2 Complete the sentences. Use already + present perfect.

1. What time is Paul arriving? → He's already arrived.
2. Do Sue and Bill want to see the film? → No, they
..... it.
3. Don't forget to phone Tom. → I
4. When is Martin going away? → He
5. Do you want to read the paper? → I
6. When does Linda start her job? → She

16.3 Write with just or a negative sentence with yet.

Based on the recent context, write sentences using she's just..., they've just..., or hasn't... yet.

1. (she / go / out) → She hasn't gone out yet.
2. (the bus / go) → The bus
3. (they / arrive) → They
4. (he / open / the present) → He
5. (they / finish / dinner) → They
6. (it / stop / raining) → It

16.4 Write questions with yet.

1. Friend got a new job. → Have you started your new job yet?
2. Friend has new neighbours. →
you
3. Friend must write a letter. →
4. Tom was selling his car. →